2026 Georgia FBLA State Project Flyer Contest

Guidelines

Chapters are encouraged to create a flyer using generative AI tools promoting their chapter's participation in one of Georgia FBLA's Monthly Service Challenges this year. The target audience for this flyer is middle and high school students. This contest will take place this year in conjunction with the Georgia FBLA Fall Motivational Rally at Six Flags over Georgia and FBLA Day at the Georgia National Fair. Chapters not participating in either Fall Motivational Rally are not eligible to participate.

Each chapter may enter one (1) entry consisting of a flyer, based on an individual, team, or chapter design. The flyer must be created and prepared by student members, not advisers. Local advisers should serve as consultants to ensure that the guidelines of the contest are followed, the content is accurate and the presentation is appropriate.

The flyer must promote the chapter's involvement in ONE of this year's Georgia FBLA Monthly Service Challenges. The flyer should spotlight the chapter's project and may not feature multiple monthly service challenges.

Each entry must use at least one generative AI tool as part of the creation process. AI must make a substantive contribution to the flyer's written content, imagery, or design. AI used solely for spelling, grammar, or minor editing does not satisfy this requirement.

Students are responsible for reviewing and verifying all AI-generated content. The use of AI does not excuse factual inaccuracies or inappropriate content.

Entries may not use copyrighted text, images, or graphics unless the chapter has permission or a license to use them. Official FBLA, Georgia FBLA, school, and chapter branding may be used in accordance with applicable brand guidelines. Facts and statistics may be obtained from outside sources but must be properly cited.

The flyer must represent an original design created by the chapter with the assistance of AI tools. Chapters must disclose all AI tools used and provide the prompt(s) used to create the final entry.

All entries must be submitted at the Rally competition desk no later than 10:30 am on the day of the Rally. Judging will occur after the Fair, with winners announced at the Fall Leadership Conference. The entries will become the property of Georgia FBLA and may be showcased throughout the year.
